Humanitarian Aid

The United State has continued to play its traditional rule of safe haven for those who file of a raf forced to flee their homes because of persecution or war. During 1989, the United States provided resettlement opportunities arrund the globe. In addition, the United States joined with other nations to provide relief to refugees in country of first asylum in Africa, the Middle East and Asia.

and Asia.

The great majority of refugee admissions continued to be from Indochina.

During 1980, 188,000 Indochinese were resettled in the United States. Although refugee populations persist in camps in Southeast Asia, and refugees continue to flee Vietnam, Laos and Kampuchea, the flow is not as great as in the past.

It cannot be ignored that the destructive and agressive policies of the Soviet Union have added immeasurably to the suffering in these three tragic situations.

The Control of Nuclear Weapons

We have been proceeding on a number of fronts:

9 First, we have been seeking to encursae nations to accede to the Non-Proliferation Treaty. The U.S. is also actively encouraging other nations to accede to the Non-Proliferation Treaty. The U.S. is also actively encouraging other nations to accept full-scope safeguards on all of their nuclear gupilers to adopt a full-scope safeguards requirement as a condition for future supply.

9 Second, the International Nuclear Fuel Cycle Evaluation (I.R.F.C.E., which was completed in 1989, demonstrated that suppliers and recipients, conditions of the suppliers and recipients, and the suppliers are suppliers and recipients.
